

NOTES FOR APPLICANTS

The Imre Kertész Kolleg Jena offers visiting fellowships for a duration of six to ten months. Applications are invited from both historians and from scholars in neighbouring fields (e.g. sociology, anthropology, literary studies, political sciences etc.).

1. Eligibility and Application

Please note the following information before you apply:

1. residence: Fellows are to reside in Jena for the duration of their fellowship.
2. eligibility: Applicants must hold a PhD or be able to prove having submitted at the time of application.
3. applications must include
 - a Curriculum Vitae,
 - a list of publications,
 - a project proposal (not exceeding 5 pages); see below for further details,
 - a statement on the relevance of the research project to the respective research area of the Kolleg (not exceeding 2 pages).
4. the project proposal should cover
 - central questions and methodological approach,
 - relevance with regard to existing scholarship in lieu of a bibliography,
 - research and work conducted so far,
 - desired dates of the fellowship and planned work schedule,
 - intended form of publication (article, monograph, etc.).
5. all application materials must be submitted in English and as one PDF file.

Informal enquiries may be addressed to the Kolleg's Managing Director, Daniela Gruber, on daniela.gruber@uni-jena.de.

2. Review Process

In the Review Process, the Imre Kertész Kolleg and the Friedrich Schiller University Jena are committed to securing good scientific practice. The Kolleg and the Friedrich Schiller University are committed to securing equal opportunities in the humanities at all stages of the application process and during the fellowships. In particular, any applicants' academic career with respect to family-related breaks and careers outside academia will be taken into due consideration. We support incoming fellows with children in finding childcare and local schools. More on the university's equal opportunity policies can be found here.
